Brokerage services and fees differ based on several factors. It is important that you understand these differences and ask questions as they arise. Free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, providing educational information. **

Question/Topic	Firm Response
What investment services and advice can you provide me?	We offer brokerage services through Registered Representatives. Brokerage services include accounts and services, including buying and selling securities through a clearing firm, opening accounts directly with product sponsors and mutual fund companies, insurance and annuity companies.
Monitoring	Our firm does not provide ongoing monitoring of customer accounts.
Investment Authority.	Our firm does not have discretion to buy and sell securities for you. Instead, we only place transactions in brokerage accounts or with product companies once you have approved us doing so. You and not your registered representative will make buy, hold, sell and other decisions in your account.
Limited Investment Offerings.	Our firm limits its investment offerings to certain types of securities, strategies and product sponsors. For example, our firm does not allow certain types of options strategies and we may not transact business with certain annuity or mutual fund companies.
Account Minimums and Other Requirements.	Our firm does not have an account minimum to open a brokerage account.
Conversation Starters. Ask us!	Given my financial situation, should I choose a brokerage service? Why or why not? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?
Question/Topic	Firm Response
What fees will I pay?	Fees and costs are dependent upon what you buy or sell. You may pay commissions, sales charges, or administrative fees. You could also be subject to certain transaction-based fees as described below. You might also pay fees in the form of ongoing expenses such as distribution and service fees (12b-1 fees) or trail and renewal commission fees.
Transaction based fee description (B/D)	Investors may be charged more as the frequency of activity increases (i.e., more trades in your account) and therefore, representatives may have an incentive to encourage trading more often. The creates a conflict of interest. In many cases, our firm receives a portion of the fees you are charged by third parties such as custodians and product sponsors.
Other fees and costs	You may also be subject to other fees and costs. These fees might include custodian fees, account maintenance or minimum fees, mutual fund or annuity fees (i.e., product level fees), trading fees other than commissions such as ticket charges or regulatory fees, annual account fees, servicing fees (i.e., wire or check request fees or paper statement fees). In many cases, our firm is passing such fees through from your clearing firm but in certain instances, we may receive a portion of the fee charged by the clearing firm.
Additional information:	You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.
Conversation Starters. Ask Us!	Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

Question/Topic	Firm Response

	understand what this means: Our firm and our registered representatives may receive compensation as a result of the specific investment recommendation made to you. This compensation will vary and be dependent upon the type of investment and could create a conflict when the recommendation is made. For example, if you are choosing between different securities within the same product class (i.e., a mutual fund), there may be a fee differential that would incentivize representatives to recommend the investment that will result in more commission or a longer trailing fee after the initial purchase. When you invest, you should be sure to review the specific information related to fees and compensation paid that is required to be provided separately from this Form CRS. Our firm, including affiliates, offers a cash sweep program as a core account sweep vehicle with our clearing firm, RBC. The sweep program generates financial benefits for us which creates a conflict of interest.
