- What is included in a BrokerCheck report?

- BrokerCheck reports for individual brokers include information such as employment history, professional qualifications, disciplinary actions, criminal convictions, civil judgments and arbitration awards. BrokerCheck reports for brokerage firms include information on a firm's profile, history, and operations, as well as many of the same disclosure events mentioned above.
- Please note that the information contained in a BrokerCheck report may include pending actions or allegations that may be contested, unresolved or unproven. In the end, these actions or allegations may be resolved in favor of the broker or brokerage firm, or concluded through a negotiated settlement with no admission or finding of wrongdoing.

- Where did this information come from?

- The information contained in BrokerCheck comes from FINRA's Central Registration Depository, or CRD® and is a combination of:
 - o information FINRA and/or the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) require brokers and brokerage firms to submit as part of the registration and licensing process, and
 - o information that regulators report regarding disciplinary actions or allegations against firms or brokers.

- How current is this information?

- Generally, active brokerage firms and brokers are required to update their professional and disciplinary information in CRD within 30 days. Under most circumstances, information reported by brokerage firms, brokers and regulators is available in BrokerCheck the next business day.

- What if I want to check the background of an investment adviser firm or investment adviser representative?

- To check the background of an investment adviser firm or representative, you can search for the firm or individual in BrokerCheck. If your search is successful, click on the link provided to view the available licensing and registration information in the SEC's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure (IAPD) website at <https://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov>. In the alternative, you may search the IAPD website directly or contact your state securities regulator at <http://www.finra.org/Investors/ToolsCalculators/BrokerCheck/P455414>.

- Are there other resources I can use to check the background of investment professionals?

2. Certain thresholds must be met before an event is reported to CRD, for example:
 - o A law enforcement agency must file formal charges before a broker is required to disclose a particular criminal event.
 - o A customer dispute must involve allegations that a broker engaged in activity that violates certain rules or conduct governing the industry and that the activity resulted in damages of at least $5,000.
 - o
3. Disclosure events in BrokerCheck reports come from different sources:
 - o As mentioned at the beginning of this report, information contained in BrokerCheck comes from brokers, brokerage firms and regulators. When more than one of these sources reports information for the same disclosure event, all versions of the event will appear in the BrokerCheck report. The different versions will be separated by a solid line with the reporting source labeled.
 - o
4. There are different statuses and dispositions for disclosure events:
 - o A disclosure event may have a status of pending, on appeal, or final.
 - A "pending" event involves allegations that have not been proven or formally adjudicated.
 - An event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
 - A "final" event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
 - o A final event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
 - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
 - A "settled" matter generally involves an agreement by the parties to resolve the matter. Please note that brokers and brokerage firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.

Broker Statement	October 2009, I met with then KSI Sr. Compliance officer for approval regarding (1) A D/B/A name change from Maxima Financial Group LLC to Sovereign Capital LLC and (2) A small, minority shareholding position in a proposed start-up venture. All requested paperwork was provided to the Officer and approval received. Sometime following, he passed away from a recurrence of [REDACTED]. From that time through my termination, I continued to discuss the two items when questions arose, verbally and in email, with KSI Compliance and Registration personnel. May 2012, at the end of a verbal conversation, an Officer asked me to re-submit the two items on their new electronic system stating it was a formality they were requesting of everyone to populate the new electronic system. Later in conversation she said while it was a formality, it was also because they couldn't seem to locate my original paperwork.

I explained how careful I was to follow every particular requested of me and she reaffirmed to just put them on the new system and they'd be immediately re-approved. However, when I followed her instructions, both items were immediately rejected and I terminated without any investigation or examination of our email exchanges, which substantiated my position, their long awareness and guidance of the two items and the fact that at no time in any form did KSI Compliance personnel inform me that approval paperwork was missing.

Being asked to repeat a paperwork submission was not an unusual request. Lost or missing paperwork was a routine event with KSI. Regardless of whether submitted by fax or overnight mail, documents and/or pages would somehow end up missing and need to be re-submitted; a fact to which my staff could attest.

In conclusion, all requested items were provided to the KSI Sr. Compliance Officer and approval received prior to engagement. At no time during the events in question, did any KSI person let alone Compliance inform me, in any form, that approval paperwork could not be located. Following my termination, FINRA conducted a thorough review of the matter and a decision of no action was rendered.
