BrokerCheck reports for brokerage firms include information on a firm's profile, history, and operations, as well as many of the same disclosure events mentioned above.
- Please note that the information contained in a BrokerCheck report may include pending actions or allegations that may be contested, unresolved or unproven. In the end, these actions or allegations may be resolved in favor of the broker or brokerage firm, or concluded through a negotiated settlement with no admission or finding of wrongdoing.

- Where did this information come from?

- The information contained in BrokerCheck comes from FINRA's Central Registration Depository, or CRD® and is a combination of:

 - o information that regulators report regarding disciplinary actions or allegations against firms or brokers.

- Generally, active brokerage firms and brokers are required to update their professional and disciplinary information in CRD within 30 days. Under most circumstances, information reported by brokerage firms, brokers and regulators is available in BrokerCheck the next business day.

- What if I want to check the background of an investment adviser firm or investment adviser representative?

- To check the background of an investment adviser firm or representative, you can search for the firm or individual in BrokerCheck. If your search is successful, click on the link provided to view the available licensing and registration information in the SEC's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure (IAPD) website at <https://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov>. The claim has been denied. The firm concluded that Representative did not misrepresent the risks associated with his recommendation. After the customer had contacted him in September 2020 to discuss alternatives to bank CD's paying 0.50%, Representative recommended a portfolio of diversified mutual funds with an allocation of approximately 20% stocks and 80% bonds. He fully discussed the risks of these non-guaranteed investments, which the customer agreed to accept. The customer's account declined in value during the first half of 2022, as a result of market fluctuation caused by the Russian invasion of Ukraine, a rise in energy prices, interest rate hikes, and other economic factors. The total decline in value was approximately 10%.
