About BrokerCheck®

BrokerCheck offers information on all current, and many former, registered securities brokers, and all current and former registered securities firms. FINRA strongly encourages investors to use BrokerCheck to check the background of securities brokers and brokerage firms before deciding to conduct, or continue to conduct, business with them.

- What is included in a BrokerCheck report?

BrokerCheck reports for individual brokers include information such as employment history, professional qualifications, disciplinary actions, criminal convictions, civil judgments and arbitration awards. BrokerCheck reports for brokerage firms include information on a firm's profile, history, and operations, as well as many of the same disclosure events mentioned above.

- Please note that the information contained in a BrokerCheck report may include pending actions or allegations that may be contested, unresolved or unproven. In the end, these actions or allegations may be resolved in favor of the broker or brokerage firm, or concluded through a negotiated settlement with no admission or finding of wrongdoing.

- Where did this information come from?

- The information contained in BrokerCheck comes from FINRA's Central Registration Depository, or CRD® and is a combination of:

- information FINRA and/or the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) require brokers and brokerage firms to submit as part of the registration and licensing process, and
- information that regulators report regarding disciplinary actions or allegations against firms or brokers.

- How current is this information?

- Generally, active brokerage firms and brokers are required to update their professional and disciplinary information in CRD within 30 days. Under most circumstances, information reported by brokerage firms, brokers and regulators is available in BrokerCheck the next business day.

- What if I want to check the background of an investment adviser firm or investment adviser representative?

- To check the background of an investment adviser firm or representative, you can search for the firm or individual in BrokerCheck. If your search is successful, click on the link provided to view the available licensing and registration information in the SEC's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure (IAPD) website at <https://www.adviserinfo.sec.gov>. In the alternative, you may search the IAPD website directly or contact your state securities regulator at <http://www.finra.org/Investors/ToolsCalculators/BrokerCheck/P455414>.

- Are there other resources I can use to check the background of investment professionals?

- FINRA recommends that you learn as much as possible about an investment professional before deciding to work with them. Your state securities regulator can help you research brokers and investment adviser representatives doing business in your state.

The different versions will be separated by a solid line with the reporting source labeled.
 - o
4. There are different statuses and dispositions for disclosure events:
 - o A disclosure event may have a status of pending, on appeal, or final.
 - A "pending" event involves allegations that have not been proven or formally adjudicated.
 - An event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
 - A "final" event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
 - o A final event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
 - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
 - A "settled" matter generally involves an agreement by the parties to resolve the matter. Please note that brokers and brokerage firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.

Disclosure Event Details

When evaluating this information, please keep in mind that a disclosure event may be pending or involve allegations that are contested and have not been resolved or proven. The matter may, in the end, be withdrawn, dismissed, resolved in favor of the broker, or concluded through a negotiated settlement for certain business reasons (e.g., to maintain customer relationships or to limit the litigation costs associated with disputing the allegations) with no admission or finding of wrongdoing.

Disclosure 1 of 1

Reporting Source: Firm
Employer Name: Citizens Securities, inc.
Termination Type: Discharged
Termination Date: 04/26/2017
Allegations: Advised by parent company bank, Citizens Bank N.A., that Mr. Goss had been terminated for violation of Code of Ethics policy. Not investment related.
Product Type: No Product

Reporting Source: Broker
Employer Name: CCO Investment Services
Termination Type: Discharged
Termination Date: 04/26/2017
Allegations: Allegations of violating Citizens code of ethics for not reporting a bank colleague(loan officer) that forged a customers signature which I had no knowledge that he had even forged the customers signature.
Product Type: No Product
Broker Statement
Citizens securities terminated my employment on 4/26/2017 for allegations that I violated Citizens Banks Code of Ethics. In my role as a producing sales manager we would have lending opportunities that we would refer to one of many loan officers that worked for Citizens Bank and they would complete the loan application and take that client through the lending process. There was a particular opportunity with one of my investment clients that I sent over to a loan officer in Ohio(one of our lending centers) that wanted to do a joint application for a home equity line of credit. The loan officer first input the application as an individual application which doesn't require any signatures to submit and I noticed it wasn't joint as they requested so I informed the loan officer of this mistake. To add a secondary signer there is a form which requires the customers signature even though none is needed when submitting the initial application. An investigation was started on this application which I found out during this investigation that the loan officer had signed the customers signature because the applicant was not available to sign the form and at the conclusion of the investigation they concluded, "I must have known about the forged signature" and was terminated for not reporting the forged signature by this loan officer which violated Citizens Code of Ethics. I would have had no way of knowing he had signed this form for the customer unless he specifically informed me he had done it as we don't have access to view any of the loan documents, income documents etc in the system.
