Disclosure Events

What you should know about reported disclosure events:

1. All individuals registered to sell securities or provide investment advice are required to disclose customer complaints and arbitrations, regulatory actions, employment terminations, bankruptcy filings, and criminal or civil judicial proceedings.
2. Certain thresholds must be met before an event is reported to CRD, for example:
 - A law enforcement agency must file formal charges before a broker is required to disclose a particular criminal event.
 - A customer dispute must involve allegations that a broker engaged in activity that violates certain rules or conduct governing the industry and that the activity resulted in damages of at least $5,000.
3. Disclosure events in BrokerCheck reports come from different sources:
 - As mentioned at the beginning of this report, information contained in BrokerCheck comes from brokers, brokerage firms and regulators. When more than one of these sources reports information for the same disclosure event, all versions of the event will appear in the BrokerCheck report. The different versions will be separated by a solid line with the reporting source labeled.
4. There are different statuses and dispositions for disclosure events:
 - A disclosure event may have a status of pending, on appeal, or final.
 - A "pending" event involves allegations that have not been proven or formally adjudicated.
 - An event that is "on appeal" involves allegations that have been adjudicated but are currently being appealed.
 - A "final" event has been concluded and its resolution is not subject to change.
 - A final event generally has a disposition of adjudicated, settled or otherwise resolved.
 - An "adjudicated" matter includes a disposition by (1) a court of law in a criminal or civil matter, or (2) an administrative panel in an action brought by a regulator that is contested by the party charged with some alleged wrongdoing.
 - A "settled" matter generally involves an agreement by the parties to resolve the matter. Please note that brokers and brokerage firms may choose to settle customer disputes or regulatory matters for business or other reasons.
 - A "resolved" matter usually involves no payment to the customer and no finding of wrongdoing on the part of the individual broker. Such matters generally involve customer disputes.

For your convenience, below is a matrix of the number and status of disclosure events involving this broker. Further information regarding these events can be found in the subsequent pages of this report. You also may wish to contact the broker to obtain further information regarding these events.

Disclosure Event Details

When evaluating this information, please keep in mind that a disclosure event may be pending or involve allegations that are contested and have not been resolved or proven. The matter may, in the end, be withdrawn, dismissed, resolved in favor of the broker, or concluded through a negotiated settlement for certain business reasons (e.g., to maintain customer relationships or to limit the litigation costs associated with disputing the allegations) with no admission or finding of wrongdoing.

This report provides the information exactly as it was reported to CRD and therefore some of the specific data fields contained in the report may be blank if the information was not provided to CRD.

Sentence/Penalty: I took a plea deal to have my charge reduced from Controlled Substance with no Prescription (felony) to Soliciting Possession of a Controlled Substance (g. misdemeanor) and pled guilty on 02/14/2007. I was sentenced to 2 years probation, 365 days in jail with 364 suspended and a $5,000 fine, with $4,000 suspended. I paid $518.92 on 07/09/2008 and $681.08 on 12/10/2008. I violated probation with a new charge that doesn't fit the criteria for Question 14A(1)b and was ordered to pay an additional $250 on 12/18/2008, which I did and then the judge closed the case the same day.

Broker Statement

On the night of August 5th, 2006, I was arrested for Controlled Substance with no Prescription (felony). On this night, I was attending a party at my aunt's house and was in my car with a couple of friends and we were getting ready to smoke marijuana. Apparently, one of my aunt's neighbors called in a noise complaint and when the police arrived, they saw my friends and I in my car and decided to investigate us first. I had some marijuana on my lap when they shined a flashlight through my window. Since they saw what I had on my lap, they asked us all to exit the vehicle so they could search it. Upon searching it, they found a bag with more marijuana in it. It was my bag, so I admitted to that and they placed me under arrest. I spent the night in the Snohomish County Jail that night and was released the following afternoon on my own personal recognizance. As a couple side notes: (1). I was not sure how to complete two different questions of the charge details in the "Event and Disposition Details" section ("plea for each charge," the initial charge in my case and also disposition of amended or reduced charge), so I sought the advice of an attorney. I knew with certainty that the plea for my amended charge was "Guilty," but wasn't sure about the initial charge and the clerk's office for the Snohomish County District Court, who has been providing me all this case's detail wasn't sure how to answer this, so they are the ones that referred me to seek an attorney's advice. The attorney I worked with over the phone was able to look up my case and advised me that the plea for my initial charge was "Not Guilty" and instructed me to provide that answer in the "plea for each charge" field. This person also advised me that the disposition of amended or reduced charge in this case was "Convicted" and to select that option for that field. (2). The clerk's office for the Snohomish County District Court did tell me that my charge could be classified as amended or reduced and that they mean the same thing. I mention this because in the "Disposition of Charge" section of my charge details, these are two different options.
